S.C.A. Elections Are Approaching

Senior class sponsor, Mr. William Browne, who is also the director of the senior play, coaches Wilma Bender and Bobby Smith during rehearsal.

'Ring Around Elizabeth'

Bender, Smith Lead In Play; Drama Given March 25, 26

by Pattie Arwood

Tension mounted in the school auditorium on February 16, as nervous seniors waited for Mr. William E. Browne, senior class sponsor, to announce the 1966 senior play cast. That day was the climax of a long week of many readings for the hopeful seniors.

Portraying the title role in "Ring Around Elizabeth," written by Charles Armstrong, will be Wilma Bender. The characters supporting her are:

|---------------------|------------------|
| Ralph | Bobby Smith |
| Jennifer | Linda Siegfried |
| Mercy | Cheryl Gunn |
| Hubert | Jimmy Cassidy |
| Laurette | Stef Fouts |
| Irene | Sandra Alexander |
| Andy | Larry Gunn |
| Vida | Frances Nuckols |
| Harriet | Susan Lohwasser |
| Dr. Hollister | Terry Duke |
| Policeman | Danny Wayne |

Wilma, quite excited by her part, feels that in order to have a production of which the class of '66 can be proud, "it will take the complete co-operation and support of the entire senior class." Wilma also commented that the "cast is great and capable of doing a good job."

Bobby, who will be playing the part of Ralph, Elizabeth's husband, had been looking forward to the possibility of being in the senior play all through high school. He considers it "a privilege to work with Mr. Browne" and feels that "by combining a little play with a lot of work, it can be a success." When asked what he felt would be the hardest obstacle to overcome, Bobby answered, "to characterize the roles we are portraying—not just in physical looks but in actions also."

Due to the great response the senior play always receives, it will run two nights, March 25th and March 26th.

Davis Signs 'Soul Senders'; Theme Is Still Undiscovered

Although the Prom chairmen and their committees have been working hard, no one knows what they are doing. The Class of '67 is really going all out to keep the theme a secret and so far have succeeded.

Barbara Cabell and Paula Tunstall have ordered five hundred invitations from the Childress Printing Company.

Jimmy Whitlow has inquired about the parachutes and hopes to get all white ones from the air base.

Cindy Council is planning the murals for the walls for her committee to draw and paint.

Linda Keyser and Cindy have made the design for the napkins and programs, and Linda is now in the process of ordering them.

Frankie Butler and Jimmy Stewart have gotten the costumes for the servants and have bought paper and other materials for the making of the props.

Steve Chapman, with the help of the Barracudas, chose the Soul Senders to play the night of the 16th.

Sue Anne Madison has decided on the type and amount of refreshments to be ordered in April. She and Diann Davis have also chosen the sophomore servers.

Cubs Sign HS Alumnus; Johns Leaves for Calif.

by Rhonda Coakley and Charles O'Connor

Congratulations to Billy Johns, an outstanding Highland Springs High School alumnus who has been signed with the Chicago Cubs, a leading national league baseball team.

many teams were after! Not only did the Cubs ask to sign him, but also the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cleveland Indians.

Past Coach Comments

Coach Sorrell, Billy's baseball coach for three years, had this to say. "I don't know anything about the contract Billy signed, but as far as potential goes, Billy certainly has it. He has speed, quick hands and wrists, a good arm and he can hit the long ball."

Attributes Success to H.S.

Johns, a former star halfback for the Springer football team and first baseman during baseball season, attributes his recent signing to his experience gained on Springer sports teams. Billy had been drafted a month prior to this, but somehow managed to evade the draftboard in order to sign with the Cubs. His reaction to all this was expressed as "hard to explain"; yet, regardless of circumstances, Johns has signed a bonus contract and will begin his try at a baseball career when training begins in the spring.

Coach Sorrell also stated that all the major league teams had seen Johns play at least one time.

It's A Duty . . .

It is hoped that with the coming S.C.A. elections all students will participate and support the candidates of their choice. Springers, remember the privilege is yours to make every vote count.

California or Bust!

Billy is leaving for California around March 14th or 15th. He must be there on March 16th in order to start the spring month's training.

South Viet Nam Student Visits HS

by Kay Plyler

Recently Highland Springs was honored by the visit of Pham-Toan-Thien, a student from South Vietnam. His visit here to the United States was made possible by the American Field Survey. Thien was on his way to the Twentieth Annual New York Herald Tribune World Youth Forum as a delegate.

There were thirty-one students' competitions held by the Ministries of Education in each country. All of the delegates are high school seniors who will be spending January, February, and March in the United States meeting many leaders.

Thien had a busy schedule to fulfill upon arriving in Richmond. On Saturday he and the other delegates visited the Virginia Museum. At 2:30 p.m. Sunday, everyone met in the Rotunda of the Capitol Building for the opening of Brotherhood Week. A tea followed, and also a visit to the Valentine Museum. At 4:30 Sunday afternoon, a get-together was held at the John Marshall Hotel on the roof garden. Later, supper was held in the Virginia Room at the hotel. On Monday the delegates were scheduled to visit and study the school of their host; on Tuesday the delegates departed.

Thien began to relate his story by beginning with his birthplace. He was born in Thai-Binh, a city near Hanoi. When Viet-Nam was divided into two parts, his family was one of more than one million refugees who moved south.

Thien has a large family. Although he has but one sister, he has many brothers, all of whom are still in school. Thien's father is a civil service agent and has worked for the government for approximately thirty years.

Thien is now a student in Saigon, majoring in literature and foreign languages (he speaks French and English fluently). He enjoys many activities. Two of his hobbies are reading and book collecting. Thien explains that most of his money is spent on books. He now has a small library of about 1,000 volumes. He also enjoys music (modern, of course). Thien feels that classical music is a little too deep for him to appreciate fully. He also prefers American films because of the great scenery and top-quality colors. Thien wants some day to be able to visit Hollywood and see how the films are actually made. As far as sports are concerned, he enjoys football, basketball, and swimming.

Chief Religion, Buddhism

The family religion is Buddhism, but Thien's father, being very liberal-minded, allows them to follow any religion they choose. Confucianism also exercises influence on the ethical concepts of his family.

Thien professes a talent of singing. He asserts that although his voice isn't rich and deep, he can sing the folk-songs of his country. He is also learning to play the guitar.

Thien delights in the study of international affairs. He aspires to become a diplomat working in international affairs. If this is not possible, he would like to be a teacher.

An interesting comparison of name structure reveals that according to our standards, the name Pham-Toan-Thien is backwards. Pham is the family name; Thien is his first name.

In one government class, Thien eagerly discussed, for practically the whole period, his impressions and travels in America. Finally one student asked him why he had not related more about Viet Nam and the war. Thien replied that at times he liked to try to forget momentarily about the war and all of its sorrow.

AFS Deserves Credit

The American Field Service in our school has done a lot in past years. Through the efforts of the adult and student members, three foreign exchange students have been able to come to our school, and two members of the student body have been able to go abroad for the summer. This may not be possible in coming years if students do not support our A.F.S.

This year the A.F.S. has been trying to make up for the deficit left from last year. Through the sale of basketball programs at the games, most of the deficit has been recovered. Local civic organizations are helping with our problem, and the Interclub Council has been asked to help as a club; but unless the student body helps, the A.F.S. will not be able to function in our school after this year. Let's hope the students will help in the effort to keep the A.F.S. in our H.S.H.S.

Rabbi Gives Insight

The Rabbi, by Noah Gordon, is the story of a modern rabbi, Michael Kind. From the influence of his strictly orthodox grandfather and immigrant father, Michael becomes determined to be a rabbi. He finds an obstacle to his goal when he falls in love with the daughter of a Congregational minister, Leslie Rawlins.

As Michael moves from state to state, he has difficulty finding a congregation which will respond to him as he wishes. When he finally becomes settled, he has a young daughter and a teenaged son. He reviews his life, his ideals, and the many changes which the years have made on him.

The Rabbi is a novel about people, who seem to laugh and breathe with real life. It is a tender love story. It is a man who faces challenges and even sorrow every day of his life. While it does not deal with the history of Jewish people, The Rabbi depicts modern, American Jews who now face a crisis almost as serious as the Nazi prison camps and social degradation of their past. This crisis is an apathy, a growing lack of concern for their heritage and their future.

The Rabbi is fascinating. It has appeal for everyone, a charm which surrounds the whole story. Noah Gordon has produced a completely modern novel about an ancient culture. It is filled with entertainment from start to finish.

New Teacher Likes Batman

by Frances Aliff

One of the newest additions to the language staff this year is Mrs. Alice Horne.

Mrs. Horne, an English teacher, attended Annadale High School in Mount Vernon, Virginia. Beginning as a French major, she attended the College of William and Mary. "I like English. I found the courses more interesting, so I switched." Mrs. Horne graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English.

Mrs. Horne first taught at Great Bridge High School in Chesapeake, Virginia, and then moved on to George C. Marshall High School in Fairfax County. Her next stop was here at Highland Springs, which is "far away from where I live in the far west end of Richmond."

Since she is so new, Mrs. Horne was asked her first impression of Highland Springs. "It's smaller than the school in northern Virginia where I taught. It's friendlier, I feel, because it is small."

Mrs. Horne, who was born in Schenectady, New York, likes to travel. The trip that stands out most in her mind is the trip she made to Europe, while she was still in high school.

When asked about sports, Mrs. Horne quickly replied, "I love them! I especially like swimming and water sports."

Mrs. Horne has two main interests: books and furniture. She enjoys reading and collecting books, and "loves" furniture shopping, for she is presently furnishing her home. She also likes Bill Cosby (so much that she named her cat after him), playing Bridge, the later shows on television, and "BATMAN".

The student behavior and attitude at Highland Springs are most outstanding to Mrs. Horne. However, she isn't quite as satisfied with the seats, chairs, and rooms. She feels there should be more of each. She also likes coffee and is disappointed because we don't have coffee in the cafeteria and in the teachers' lounge. Like any other new person at Highland Springs, Mrs. Horne is still finding her way around. With a chuckle she added, "I got lost coming to school the first day and went way past it. Then I discovered that my keys were locked inside my top drawer!"

Letter to Editor

Alma Mater Tradition Is Valued

It has been noticed, by observation, that the educational system of Henrico County has grown tremendously. The schools now enjoy more modern educational aids and conveniences than ever. More young people receive better educations, academically and socially, than before. The importance of an "Alma Mater" tradition is apparent for both schools and students.

It has also been noticed that one phase of this tradition has been neglected, that of the rolled diploma. Previously, the diplomas have been dispatched in leaf form, lacking the prestige and dignity representative of twelve years' labor. It seems that with educational standards and practices constantly rising, so might the dignity of the accomplishment of completion.

Why not elevate ceremonial standard as well as the academic? If seniors volunteered to roll and arrange the diplomas for the ceremony, wouldn't it be as easy and so much more impressive to roll our certificates in honor, dignity, and profound pride in our "Alma Mater"?

Respectfully yours,
Don Hudson '66

All Hail to Shakespeare!

Editors Note: Due to the fact that all seniors are studying both Macbeth and Hamlet, the Fling feels that the following study questions will broaden the student's understanding of these plays. They are taken from Richard Armour's Twisted Tales From Shakespeare.

Questions on Macbeth:

1. Have you a weird sister? An odd brother?
2. Comment on the following quotation: "Aroint thee, witch! the rump-fed ronyon cries." Discuss the advantages of rump-fed over spoon-fed and intravenous.
3. Was Macbeth thane? How does he compare in this respect with Hamlet?
4. Would you trust Lady Macbeth as a wet nurse? Keep in mind her expression of solicitude for her own infant: "I would, while it was milking in my face, have pluck'd my nipple from his boneless gums and dash'd the brains out."
5. Which would you prefer in your stew:
 - a. Newt's eyes?
 - b. Dagon's scales?
 - c. A dash of baboon blood?
6. Continue and bring to an interesting conclusion Lady Macbeth's unfinished poem?

"The thane of Fife
Had a wife . . ."
7. If you have trouble remembering lines, take the part of one of the witches in the following scene:

1st Witch. Hail!
2nd Witch. Hail!
3rd Witch. Hail!

8. "Upon my head," said Macbeth, "they placed a fruitless crown." What did he expect, a bowl of grapes and bananas?
9. Did you realize that a hautboy is not a male child but a musical instrument?
10. Try to piece together the history of Scotland. Use Scotch Tape if necessary.

Questions on Hamlet:

1. Have you noticed how, in Shakespeare's plays, when people said they saw a ghost they usually did? Were people more trustworthy in those days? Were ghosts?
2. How long can you discuss Rosencrantz without mentioning Guildenstern, and vice versa?
3. What did Queen Gertrude see in King Claudius?
4. Where did Polonius spend his

- time when he was not sulking behind an arras?
5. Consider the effect on Ophelia's future if she had known how to swim.
6. Which is the most horrible line in the play? Not counting, of course, "O, horrible! O, horrible! Most horrible!" (I, v, 80)
7. Would it give you comic relief to hold in your hands the skull of an old friend?
8. Don't you think Hamlet had rotten luck? In fact was anything more rotten in the state of Denmark?
9. Deliberate on the King's request, "Come, Hamlet, come, and take this hand from me," followed by the stage direction: "The King puts Laertes' hand into Hamlet's." (V, ii, 213) Isn't this a little gruesome?

Arrivals Are From Longwood

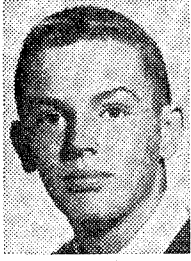

The Highland Springs Home Economics Department is currently hosting two new arrivals. Miss Sylvia Markos and Miss Rosemary Stone, both of Longwood College, are doing their practice teaching here.

Miss Markos, who comes from Norfolk, has planned to become a teacher since her early college days. She says she likes it at Highland Springs, adding, "I think it's a friendly school. Everyone is very cooperative." Miss Markos' favorite hobby is cooking. Recently she has taken up coin collecting. For the past four years, Miss Markos has been the owner of a sports car and has developed a keen interest in all sports cars.

Miss Stone claims an interest in becoming a teacher since her senior year in high school. Miss Stone is from Bassett, Virginia. She enjoys swimming and horseback riding during the warmer months, and also likes to sing. Cooking is also one of her more enjoyable past times. She likes working here at Highland Springs and says "I like the students, and the faculty members have been very nice too."

Bleacher Feature

by Jim Whitlow

The Highland Springs Varsity Basketball team ended their regular season play with a tough list of opponents. The Springers, who were 13-2 and just a game behind Capital District-leading Lane of Charlottesville, lost their chance to tie for the lead in the district when they dropped their game to John Marshall.

Until this game, the Springers couldn't seem to do anything wrong. They had just beaten Douglas Freeman, 75-72, and were sporting a nine game winning streak. But this was just the wrong night for the Springers, as Jayem built up a large lead which the Springers just couldn't overcome.

The next game H.S. played was against Tucker. This game also was supposed to be close, but the Springers ran away with the game in a superb team effort. This victory pushed their record up to 14-3, still one game behind Lane.

For their last game the H.S. cagers traveled to Charlottesville to play Lane. Even though the Springers played well, the Black Knights of Lane managed to come out on top, 84-77. This put the Springers in a tie with Douglas Freeman for second place.

The leading scorer for H.S. is Elbert Hodge, who has a 16.6 points per game average and is number eight in the District. Hodge was also named to the All-Metro second team and was voted the most popular player on the Springer team and received a trophy at half-time at the Douglas Freeman game. Other Springers with high scoring averages are Steve Harvey, 14.1, who also received honorable mention on the All-Metro squad, Jimmy Peters, 13.0, Mike Hardiman, 9, Ronnie Hardy, 8, and Chuck Sparks, 5.

The Highland Springs Junior Varsity Basketball team ended up the season with a 7-11 record.

The following are the scores of the last ten Springer Varsity games:

| | H.S. | Opponent |
|------------------|------|----------|
| Tucker | 67 | 61 |
| Varina | 71 | 36 |
| George Wythe | 45 | 40 |
| Thomas Jefferson | 72 | 70 |
| Henrico | 66 | 58 |
| Hermitage | 69 | 52 |
| Douglas Freeman | 75 | 72 |
| John Marshall | 44 | 67 |
| Tucker | 84 | 55 |
| Lane | 77 | 84 |

Jay Vee Ends Season

by Bobby Smith

"We might not have the winningest ball club, but we've got the scrappiest one," commented Coach Lammy after the junior varsity's fifth straight loss. Douglas Freeman downed the jayvees 43-38. "Ever since the loss of Weis and Clayton after the Varina win, 54-32, we have been going downhill," added Coach Lammy.

In the game with Varina, 5' 2" Ricky Combs led the Springers with 24 points. David Atkinson also came through with 19 points to help out in the win.

In the following games, the junior varsity began their streak of losses. The first loss was to the Bulldogs of George Wythe, 51-42. The Springers were again led in points by David Atkinson, who scored 19 points. But this was not enough to make up for the deficit. Next the Springers met TeeJay where they again lost, 34-31. Atkinson led the team again with 13 points.

The Springers came out on the short end again when they lost to the Warriors of Henrico 42-34. For the fourth straight game, David Atkinson headed the scoring column—this time with 15 points.

Springers Win 14

Having been defeated the first time, Highland Springs came back to beat the Hermitage Panthers 69 to 52. In this game, Mike Hardiman was the high scorer—15 points. Steve Harvey aided in the scoring with his 14 points.

On February 4, Highland Springs basketball team went to George Wythe to play the Bulldogs. The outcome was another victory for H.S., who won by a score of 45 to 40. At the end of the game the Springers had 12 team fouls, whereas George Wythe only had 7.

Elbert Hodge led the Springers in scoring with 13 points. Jimmy Peters ran a close second with 12 points, Steve Harvey and Mike Hardiman came in third in the scoring column with 6 points each.

The thirteenth varsity game proved to be lucky when Highland Springs defeated Henrico. The score was 66 to 58.

The Springers had only 10 team fouls, whereas Henrico had 18 fouls. Steve Harvey led in the scoring column with 17 points. Elbert Hodge and Jimmy Peters again ranked high in scoring, when they scored 15 and 12 points respectively.

The Springers needed to win the Douglas Freeman game, in order to keep their hopes alive for 1st place in the Capital District, and they did. The score was 75-72 in a game that was not as close as the score indicates. The Springers put on a great exhibition of outside shooting and ball handling while the taller rebels controlled (Continued on Page 4)

'Player of the Month'

Hodge Makes All-Metro

"Hot" is the word for the Springers and the Flings' Player of the Month, Elbert Hodge. Hodge, a 6'2" senior guard, closed out the season as 8th in the district in scoring. His floor percentage was 47, and he hit over half of his foul shots.

Elbert played his best game against Lane, scoring 34 points and getting ... rebounds. He finished the season eighth in scoring in the district. When asked how it felt to be a top scorer, he said, "It's a team effort, and when you get 'hot' you can depend on the other guys to get you the ball."

Hodge says the team is great and has a lot of spirit. Elbert hopes to attend V.P.I. and continue his basketball activity.

Lane Tops Springers, 84-77

The Capital District race came down to the wire as the Springers battled the Black Knights of Lane.

The Springers showed good ball-handling and rebounding; at the end of the first period the Springers held a one point lead 17 to 16. In the second, Lane outscored the Springers 25 to 17 and went in at halftime with a 7 point lead.

Lane increased its lead to 8 points by outshooting the Springers 21 to 20 in the third quarter.

With 1:30 to go the Springers cut Lane's lead to five points in a game effort to win, only to fall under the Black Knights' last rush.

the back boards and usually got 2 or 3 shots to the Springers one. Jimmy Peters led Springers scoring with 23 points, many of which came on long shots from outside. Elbert Hodge scored 18 and Steve Harvey added 11. The Springers, who were ahead by five at half-time found themselves behind by as many as 6 to 8 points in the 4th quarter. With 3 minutes remaining H.S. started a rally that eventually gave them a five point lead. Clutch foul shooting by Wayne Huband and Mike Hardiman in the final seconds provided the go-ahead points.

Varina's shooting hand seemed almost as cold as the weather when Highland Springs romped over them 71-36 on Feb. 3. Due to the Springers tough defense, many of the Blue Devils' shots never made it past the out-stretched arms of our taller Springers. Varina was able to score on only nine of forty field goal attempts.

The contest was never close, as the Springers built up a 29-9 lead in the 2nd quarter and outscored the Blue Devils 41-17 in the 2nd half.

Highland Springs substituted freely and all but one on the team scored. Mike Hardiman led all scorers with 13 points, while Jimmy Peters, Steve Harvey and Chuck Sparks also scored in double figures for the Springers. Varina was paced by Russell Hodges, who scored eleven.

On Feb. 8 Highland Springs left the T.J. gym with a victory, but it is doubtful that we could ever come that close again without losing. With 3 minutes left in the game, H.S. trailed by eight points. The Springers tied the score with a minute remaining and won on a jump shot by Elbert Hodge with six seconds on the clock. When the final buzzer rang, the score was 72-70 in favor of the Springers. In a game that saw the lead change hands many times, the Springers were led by Elbert Hodge, who scored 16 points. Mike Hardiman, Steve Harvey, and Ronnie Hardy each had 14, while Jimmy Peters added 10. Mike got his the hard way, scoring 1 field goal and 12 for 14 from the foul line.

Department Team Manager Paravati Places Work Seen Enjoys Work Thinclads Enter Meet

The English Departments of Highland Springs High School and Fairfield Junior High School will soon be conducting a point by point analysis of the SCAT and STEP English tests taken in the ninth and eleventh grades to determine the points that need emphasis in the tenth grade.

The Home Economics Department has two student teachers, Rosemary Stone and Sylvia Markas. Both are seniors at Longwood and will be here until spring.

All State Choir was held at R.P.I. on February 18-20. The following members of the A Cappella Choir were chosen to represent Highland Springs High School at All State: Pam Garnett, Linda Poindexter, sopranos; Stef Fouts and Betty Stanley, second sopranos; Jean West, Linda Roepke and June Griffith, altos; Alan Crumpler, Danny Turner, Charles Hague and Ray Owens, tenors; and Richard Cullingsworth, Glen O'Berry and Wayne Baker, basses.

This year's J.V. basketball managers are Bobby Wells and Andy Hall. This is the first year both boys are basketball managers, although Bobby has been a J.V. football manager.

The head varsity manager is Bruce Puetz, who is in his second year of this job. Assisting him is Mike Elliot, who was also a varsity football manager. Both managers enjoy their jobs. Their duties, like those of the J.V. managers, include washing the weekly laundry, keeping statistics, caring for the gym, assisting the coaches, and being ready to practice first aid whenever a crisis occurs.

Much credit is due to these assiduous Springers.

Charles Hague won the James Bland Scholarship Competition held at Woodstock Hills Country Club on February 28. He played a piano solo, "Six Variations on an Original Theme" by Beethoven. Other competitors were John Campbell, Danny Turner, and Frank Tuckwiller.

The Fairfield Lions Club will hold the zone competition here on March 20. Charles Hague will compete again at this program.

Springville is proud of our basketball team. At all times they displayed excellent sportsmanship. Congratulations, for a fine season, and an exciting one. And, thanks, Coach Hudson!
